

2023 Colorado Pollinator Summit: Promoting / Cultivating Diversity in Pollinator Conservation

November 6, 2023

Denver Botanic Gardens

The Colorado Pollinator Network (CPN) is excited to announce its 8th Annual Colorado Pollinator Summit, to be held Monday, November 6, 2023, from 8:00 am to 4:00 pm MST at the Denver Botanic Gardens. Each year, we bring together nationally and regionally recognized pollinator experts to present and discuss strategies for protecting and managing land to support pollinators among those who promote and practice pollinator conservation. This year, we are honored to welcome Dr. Harlan Patch from the Arboretum at Penn State as our keynote speaker.

The Summit is designed for organizations, agencies, businesses, professionals, educators, growers, land managers, researchers, and volunteers actively working to conserve and protect pollinators and their habitats. With this year's Summit focus on diversity, we will:

1. Explore some of the less known and underappreciated pollinators
2. Investigate how diverse viewpoints and disciplines can bring new perspectives to conservation
3. Explore the current state of Colorado pollinator health and how our state can overcome challenges and lead the way in innovative practices and policies
